About Castlemaine:

Castlemaine is a great place to base yourself for your tour of Kerry, lying on the road between Killorglin and Tralee, it is a short drive from Tralee; Kerry's principle town, Killarney and Kerry Airport. It is close to all of the county's attractions and is known as the gateway to both the Dingle Peninsula and the Ring of Kerry. Castlemaine has all the facilities you would expect in a town pubs, restaurants, post office and shops.

Castlemaine is named after a castle that once stood on the bridge across the River Maine. All that remains of the castle now is part of the supporting buttresses and the stone socket on which the pivot of the castle gate turned.

Castlemaine is not only ideally located for your Kerry vacation it also is a beautiful town in its own right. The town is picturesquely nestled between the Slieve Mish range of mountains to the North and West and Castlemaine Harbour to the West. The town services the local farming communities, the rich surrounding farmland is breathtaking with rich green and emerald fields stretching out from the town. The town is built around the lovely River Maine. There is car park and picnic site neighbouring a pleasant wooded area which has a walking trail through it. It rises to almost 200 meters over sea level. The woodland comprises of Sitka spruce, Noble fir, larch, birch and ash. On this walk there are in spots unimpeded views of the valley below and the panorama of farmland, mountain, and sea. There are also great views from mountain passes in the area such as the Short-Mountain-Road and Bòthar-Na-gCloch offering elevated views over the entire area.
