Nestled just 1km from the stunning Kinnego Beach, Annie Clare's Cottage is a rare find - a beautifully presented six-bedroom home that blends the warmth and character of a traditional Irish cottage with all the comforts of modern living.

Set along the world-famous Wild Atlantic Way and perched on an elevated site amid rolling Donegal countryside, the property enjoys a peaceful, picturesque setting that feels a world away from the everyday. Inside, six spacious bedrooms, two bathrooms, and generous living areas create a home that's as practical as it is charming.

The surrounding area is celebrated for its secluded beaches, dramatic coastal walks, and championship golf courses - making it a dream destination for outdoor enthusiasts and nature lovers alike. With Inishowen's unspoilt landscape on the doorstep, this is a property that's equally suited as a holiday home, a rental investment, or a permanent rural retreat.

PLEASE NOTE: Concrete Block Report Extract

“The compressive test results have indicated strengths of Core 4, 15.40N/mm². SEM analysis of the binder of sample 1 (selected as representative of the concrete type) quantifies the average content of free muscovite mica at 7% by volume of cement paste. The chemical results for sample 1, taken together with the common oxidation of the majority of sulphides, means the risk of concrete degradation from sulphide oxidation is considered Negligible.”

Prospective buyers are advised to review the full engineer's reports for complete context. An engineer's report K2 Design are available on request.
