We are delighted to present this traditional stone-built farmhouse with outbuildings at Ballyveskill, Tiermaclane, to the market.

Set in a highly sought-after countryside location just 8km from Ennis, the property offers an exciting opportunity for purchasers seeking a renovation project with enormous potential.

The detached farmhouse extends to approximately 969 sq. ft. and is currently in derelict condition, requiring substantial renovation and refurbishment throughout. With its traditional proportions and character, the property provides a genuine blank canvas for a purchaser to restore, extend or reimagine as a distinctive countryside home, subject to the necessary planning permission.

The house occupies a site of approximately 0.182 acres (0.0739 hectares), Folio CE24064 with mature boundaries and vegetation providing an established rural setting. A selection of useful outbuildings accompanies the farmhouse, comprising two block-built sheds and a lean-to, further adding to the property`s potential.

Construction includes a mixture of traditional stone and block walls with dashed plaster finish, a slate roof on timber trusses, concrete ground floors and timber joists at first-floor level. Windows comprise a mixture of single-glazed timber and double-glazed PVC units.

Services include mains electricity, Group Water Scheme, existing heating is by open fire.

Subject to meeting the relevant qualifying criteria, the property may have potential to benefit from the Vacant Property Refurbishment Grant together with applicable SEAI energy-upgrade grants. Prospective purchasers will need to form their own view on renovation works & grants and we would suggest you bring an engineer with you on viewing, the property will be sold on a "as is" basis.
